

BALLOON HORROR AT REDDING, CAL.

Captain James Moore, the Aeronaut, and a Bystand-er Fatally Injured.

CAUGHT FIRE IN MIDAIR

ACCIDENT WITNESSED BY THOU-SANDS OF SPECTATORS.

Redding, Cal., July 3.—In the presence of several thousand spectators, the dirigible balloon, "America," suddenly exploded at a local recreation park this afternoon, fatally injuring Captain James Moore, the aeronaut, and Milton Mygatt, a bystander.

Several spectators were knocked down and seriously hurt as the immense crowd made a rush to get away from the scene of the accident. Moore has a broken pelvis, a fractured right hip and right arm, and two-thirds of the surface of his body is frightfully burned. Mygatt, who is 80 years old, was thrown to the ground with such force by the explosion that he sustained a fractured hip. Neither man is expected to recover.

Success or a Trip to

Captain Moore was making the first of three ascensions or flights that he had contracted to make here. Attached to the huge gas bag was a small basket-like framework, carrying a small engine that furnished the power for the propeller.

The dirigible was about fifty feet above the ground. Captain Moore had just exclaimed, "Here goes for a successful flight or a trip to hell," when the revolving propeller caught in the bag and tore a huge hole in the covering, from which volumes of gas poured out.

The aeronaut quickly realized the danger, but before he could stop the engine or drop out of the basket, the gas ignited from the motor spark. There was a flash and a roar, the force of which threw many people to the ground. The crowd became panic-stricken and trampled a number of people under their feet. Moore and Mygatt were huried to a hospital, but little hope for their recovery is held out by the attending physicians.

Captain Moore came here from Los Angeles.

Once Lost in Mountains.

Los Angeles, July 3.—The balloon "America" was lost in the Sierra Nevada mountains north of Pasadena with a party of five men a few months ago. It was then in the hands of a man named Smith, who was a member of the expedition. It was one of the two balloons brought here to make a continental race, but failed because neither could get across the mountains.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.

BINGHAM NEWS NOTES.

(Special to The Herald.)
Bingham, July 3.—The Bingham Industrial Union, at its annual election, chose the following officers: President, George Barlow, vice president, Sam Dunsmore, recording secretary, Sam Dunsmore, financial secretary, August Lund, treasurer, W. A. Booth, warner, E. C. Ramsey, J. A. Smith was elected delegate to the western convention of the order to be held in Chicago July 10. The officers will be installed next Tuesday.

A delegation of students from the Iowa State university is camping up Markham gulch making a study of the mines and mineral conditions of the camp.

The Jordan board of education has advertised for bids for a new four-room brick schoolhouse at Lark.

Bingham has concluded to have a Fourth of July celebration. Races, children's dance, refreshments and a grand ball in the evening will be some of the leading features. Committees have been appointed and the affair is well in hand.

Upper Bingham will also celebrate, many events being scheduled for the day.

Thomas Smith and family have just arrived at Lark from England.

William Welch and his family have returned to Lark after an absence of two years in Butte, Mont.

Frank Sullivan of Lark has purchased a fine new five-seater automobile.

Jack Laity and Harry Henwood of Galena left this week for an extended trip to Cornwall, England.

Howard Tresidder, member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, and James Peretto, both of Denver, Colo., were to camp this week on business connected with the organization.

Joseph Crump will open a meat market at Lark, having put up a new building on the site of the old one destroyed by fire.

The Bingham Mines company is building a large concrete vault for the books of the company and valuable papers.

Alexander Fraser of Lark and Miss Rena Butterfield of Fort Herriman were married in the Salt Lake temple this week. They will reside in their newly-built home at Lark.

IS SEVERELY INJURED.

(Special to The Herald.)
Bingham, July 3.—While riding up the Dalton shaft Wednesday James Granger was pulled to the gallows frame at the top of the shaft and thrown from the ship. He received a compound fracture of his right arm and three broken ribs. At the time of the accident he was repairing the shaft for the shipment of leasers ore.

BUSY DOCTOR

Sometimes Overlooks a Point.

The physician is such a busy man that he sometimes overlooks a valuable point to which his attention may be called by an intelligent patient who is a thinker.

"About a year ago my attention was called to Grape-Nuts by one of my patients," says a physician of Cincinnati.

"At the time my own health was bad and I was pretty well run down, but I saw at once that the theories behind Grape-Nuts were sound and that if the food was all that was claimed, it was a perfect food."

"So I commenced to use Grape-Nuts with cream twice a day and in a short time I began to improve in every way and I am now much stronger, feel better and weigh more than ever before in my life."

"I know that all of this good is due to Grape-Nuts, and I am firmly convinced that the claims made for the food are true."

"I have recommended, and still recommend, Grape-Nuts to a great many of my patients with splendid results, and in some cases the improvement of patients on this fine food has been wonderful."

"As a general and nerve food, in fact, as a brain food, Grape-Nuts stands alone."

"Look in pkgs. for a copy of the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' There's a Reason."

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

AMBITIOUS PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS OF Y. M. C. A.

Ambition is the keynote and dominant trait of the 100 public school pupils who are studying in the vacation school of the Y. M. C. A. And yet, withal, they are apparently enjoying the change from regular school routine.

Chief among the attractions which are also new features this summer are the gymnasium and swimming periods. Under der the direction of the physical department the boys of the vacation school have two gymnasium periods and three swims every week, while the girls have three gymnasium periods and two swimming periods. The teachers also assist in supervising the physical activities of the pupils, thus insuring the perfect supervision necessary for a satisfactory work.

The reputation of the school has extended all over the state through the influence of the newspapers, and inquiries have been received as far as from Mantol. The son of N. H. Felt, proprietor of the Mantol opera house, will enroll tomorrow.

The standard set by the teaching corps has met with approval of the public school authorities.

The enrollment in the commercial and tutoring classes of the summer school is also gratifying. The evening classes, which were unknown as a summer project until last year, have grown daily in favor, until now complete commercial work and most of the high school subjects are offered, through the co-operative effort of the Y. M. C. A. and the teachers of the city.

FARMER AND HIS FAMILY KILLED

Atrocious Murder Near Rudolph, N. D.—Whole Country Aroused.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 3.—J. C. Christie, a farmer living near Rudolph, his wife, his daughter, Mildred, aged 15 years, and a farm hand, Michael Royne, were murdered today by robbers, whose names are not known. It is supposed that the murder was the result of an attempt to secure a large sum of money supposed to have been in the Christie home.

The murder was discovered when John T. Royne, the father of the farm hand who was slain, went to the Christie home to visit his son.

Mr. Christie, who was 56 years old, and one of the most prosperous farmers in the northwest, was milking a cow in his barn yesterday when the unknown persons shot him dead.

The murderers hurried to the house, and finding Mrs. Christie and her daughter and the Royne boy prepared to fight them, began firing. The first shots took effect, and the two women and the boy fell dead.

It is supposed the men who committed the crime were acquainted with the Christie family. Few persons knew that Christie kept large sums of money in his house. It is believed he had several thousand dollars in his home at the time of the murder. The entire countryside is aroused.

Bands of farmers were immediately organized and a pursuit of the murderers was begun.

Evil Victor was arrested in Northville, twenty miles south of the zone of the murder, this afternoon. He had $13 in small bills and a watch, knives and ladies' pin, partly identified as belonging to the Christie family.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.

LITTLE CHILD DEAD.

(Special to The Herald.)
Heber, July 3.—The little child of Joseph Nelson, who resides between Charleston and Midway, died at the Provo General hospital Thursday, where an operation for appendicitis had been decided upon. The funeral was held Friday, with burial in the Heber cemetery.

NOT WORTH SHINGLING.

(Judge.)
The late Thomas Bone, "the sailors' missionary," was the soul of kindness, but he was seldom worsted in repartee. One of his many instances of this given in his just-published life is the following:

"His work was not without its humorous side. Among the new men there were always some who sought a little amusement at his expense, but they reckoned without their host. His kindly manner never changed. The smile never left his face. There was no venom in the retort, but it seldom failed to silence the interrupter. The laugh raised at his expense made it quite certain that a second attempt would be made."

"Seeing him approaching one day, one of a group of sailors announced his intention of having some fun. He stepped forward and removed his hat, revealing a perfectly smooth crown, and asked: 'Can you tell me why my head is so bald, while all my companions have plenty of hair?'"

"I don't know," was the smiling reply, "unless the reason given me the other day by a farm—would apply, that an empty barn is not worth shingling."

FAMILIAR COMBINATION.

(Youth's Companion.)
A Boston young man had married a Chicago girl, and they had departed on their wedding tour. Despite—or perhaps because of—their studied efforts to appear like "old married folks," their fellow passengers on the railway train had no difficulty in classing them as bride and groom, and manifested their knowledge by winks, nods and grins.

An unfortunate accident to the dining car compelled the conductor to leave it on the sidetrack at a small station, and it was several hours before the train stopped for refreshments at a town where there was a restaurant near the passenger station.

It was by no means a first-class restaurant, but the travelers had a first-class appetite and they swarmed into it. With some difficulty the bride and groom found seats, and presently a waitress came to take their order.

"Where's your bill of fare?" asked the young man.

"We haven't any today, sir," she answered.

"No, sir."

"Well, what have you to eat than you can recommend as being good?"

"We have some nice pork and beans."

"Alfred," whispered the bride, "everybody seems to know that we have just been married, but how do you suppose this girl has found out that I am from Chicago and that you are from Boston?"

HOT WEATHER SIEGE BROKEN BY SHOWERS

Temperature Is Lower, but Humidity Is Oppressive—Cool at Liberty Park.

Desultory thunder showers reached Salt Lake yesterday. During the day the rainfall was slight, but last evening there was a real shower for a few moments. The rain had the effect of cooling the atmosphere, but also so increased the humidity that the heat was fully as oppressive, though the mercury registered 7 degrees less than the day before.

An easy solution of the comparatively difficult problem of keeping cool has finally been discovered. It was reported yesterday that when it was the hottest in Salt Lake during June, the Liberty Park was 72 degrees. During the evening it was so cool that wraps were in demand. This discovery will probably lead to many pilgrimages to Liberty Park if the heated period continues.

The weather bureau yesterday issued the official summary of weather conditions in Salt Lake during June. This summary shows that the hottest day was June 20, with a maximum temperature of 95, and that the coolest was June 10, with a minimum temperature of 44. The average temperature for the month was 70 degrees, which is the highest since 1893. The total rainfall for the month was only 17 inches, which is the least rainfall for this month in twenty years. During the month there were twenty clear days, six partly cloudy days and four cloudy days during the month.

Cooling showers presaged by the slight rain of last evening are promised today by the weather bureau as an indication that the hot wave is past, and that for a week or two at least Salt Lake weather will once more be bearable.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT.

Yesterday's Record at the Local Office of the Weather Bureau.

Record at the local office, United States weather bureau, for twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. today: Temperature, 91; minimum temperature, 73; mean temperature, 82, which is 8 degrees above normal. Total excess since the first of the month 31 degrees; total excess since January 1, 173 degrees. Precipitation at 6 p. m., none; total precipitation since first of the month, .00, which is .05 inch below normal. Total excess since January 1, 1.73 inches. Relative humidity, 35.

PHILADELPHIA'S WITTY DIVINE.

(Philadelphia Record.)
Archbishop Patrick J. Ryan of Philadelphia is as famous as he is eloquent as a divine, and many are the stories told of his quick repartee. When Wayne MacVeagh, former attorney general of the United States, was counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad, he called upon the archbishop in company with Mr. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania system.

"Your grace," said Mr. MacVeagh, "Mr. Roberts, who always travels with the minister, will undoubtedly get you passes over all the railroads in the United States, if in return you will get him a pass to paradise."

"I would do so gladly," flashed the archbishop, "if it were not for separating him from his counsel."

On one occasion Archbishop Ryan complained to a Philadelphia editor that one of his sermons had been badly reported.

"I am sorry," the editor responded, "but one of our best men, who is likewise a Catholic, did it."

"What is his name?" the prelate inquired.

"Eliphalet," answered the editor. "And he came mighty near doing it," was the archbishop's final shot.

PRACTICAL JOKE ENDS SERIOUSLY

Old Man May Die From Injuries
Inflicted by Edward McDonald.

LATTER IS IN JAIL

RESENTED BEING SOAKED WITH PAIL OF WATER.

Because he resented being made the target of a pail of water which was showered upon him, William Bruce, 70 years old, of 22 South Fifth street, was pounced upon and beaten down with a mason's hammer in the hands of a young man, sustaining several blows on the head which may cause his death.

The attack was made by Edward McDonald, 22 years old, who says he is a messenger employed by the Wells-Fargo Express company, and living at 60 West North Temple street. He was arrested by Detective Schultz and is held by the police without bond pending the outcome of his victim's injuries. He declared he struck the aged man in self-defense.

This story is denied by several witnesses, the chief one being Albert Robinson, a brick mason, whose hammer was used for the attack, and who claims also to have been attacked by McDonald. Robinson lives in the same house with McDonald. It is a two-story apartment. Robinson was making some alterations on the west foundation. Bruce was helping him. While the two men were at their work McDonald came out of the house, and for no other reason than to amuse himself, is said to have thrown a pail of water upon the old man. Bruce told him to desist. McDonald continued his pastime. Bruce laid down his work tools and started for McDonald. This marked the beginning of a struggle.

During which McDonald struck the old man several blows with the hammer. Robinson says he undertook to interfere, when McDonald turned upon him. The aged victim was taken to police headquarters, where he made the same statement as Robinson, to the effect that McDonald had struck him without provocation. Police Surgeon Steele found several wounds, the most serious of which is a scalp wound, which may develop a fracture, at the base of the brain. Bruce retained consciousness, but because of his advanced age his injuries may prove fatal. He was removed to his home, where a private physician was called to attend him.

HEBER TO CELEBRATE.

(Special to The Herald.)

A SERVANT OF THE LORD.

(Boston Record.)
Judge George F. Lawton of the Middlesex probate court told me a story the other day of an American minister who was spending his sabbatical year traveling abroad. Arriving in London, he made every effort to get an intimate view of the two branches of parliament in session. Of course no stranger is allowed on the floor of the house of lords, but the minister, not knowing this, and with the usual amount of American push, tried to make his way in. There is a rule, however, that servants of the various lords may be admitted to speak to their masters. Seeing the minister walking boldly in, the doorkeeper asked: "What lord do you serve?"

"What lord?" repeated the astonished American. "The Lord Jehovah!"

For a moment the doorkeeper hesitated and then admitted him. Turning to an assistant standing near, he said: "He must mean one of those poor Scotch lairds."
